Forwarded an application from the Rev. W. Hodson for a Grant of land from the Government, towards the establishment of a proposed Girls School

To the Director of Public Instruction Punjab

The Rev. W. Hodson asks for the transfer of the remaining grant of 80 kanals from the Lundas Wesleyan Girls School, to the Girls Orphanage near the Village, on the ground that there are at present in the Asylum, 105 girls, and 75 more girls under the Mission (which is one of old standing) will be added to the 25 girls already under Rev. Hodson's care. His Native Christian (Mrs. Hodson's Orphanage) is already in receipt of a grant of Rs. 20 per mensem from Government, which has been raised to 100, as per proceedings in consequence of the

Sera 1 / The Secretary to the Chief Commissioner

Sir,

I have the honour to forward for the favourable consideration and orders of the Chief Commissioner the enclosed application, in original, from the Rev Mr Leston, Chaplain of St Andrew's Church, for a grant in aid from Government towards the establishment of a Girls' School in connection with the existing St Andrew's Boys School

2. The proposal to establish this school originates with requests addressed to Mr Leston by the parents of girls now attending the Wesleyan Girls School, which institution it appears is to be closed at Christmas The grant-in-aid of Rs 80 a month given to the school was on the Rev Mr Hodson's application recently transferred to his Orphanage for native girls provide for Famine children, the being sanctioned in G C.O. 577 September last as a ten- remainder

3 The Wesleyan Girls School has ~~been~~ 12 years in existence, and contains according to the last annual returns 62 girls The retirement of the Mission from this branch of education in favour of direct operations amongst the heathen, therefore, undoubtedly creates a serious gap among the institutions in Bangalore designed expressly for the children of European and Eurasian parents of the middle classes . The Govt of India have in a particular manner drawn attention to the necessity of providing sufficient means of education for these classes, and the extent to which they are actually under instruction is even now under enquiry in Bangalore Whatever the results of that investigation may be, from correspondence that has already passed on the subject it will be seen that I estimate the wants of girls to be less adequately supplied than those of boys in Bangalore. Under these circumstances there is a clear opening now afforded for the establishment of another Girls' school in place the one to be given up, and no agency it could more appropriately take the Scotch Chaplain.

4 The reasons for this view are based upon the of St Andrews School, which may be described in the same quarter of Bangalore as the We School, upon the applications of the parents -selves of the guls concerned, and upon a -sideration of what other institutions they resort to. These are either Bishop Cotto St Johns, or the Convent On religious grou alone the latter would be entirely out of th question, and the others also to a certain ex not acceptable, apart from the distance a which St Johns is situated These schools, again, are all well filled already.

5 The prospects of the proposed St Andrew's Gu school are as favourable as could be desired in commencing such an undertaking Premis are already available in one wing of the Boy school building, now occupied by the Headma who will vacate it. An experienced and accomplished lady (Miss Millard), who well known here and in other parts of So India, has consented to be placed at head of it, and a number of th directly interested in the -tioned for the 6 In view of all these considerations there is could not it seems to me be a more legitimate object on which Govt. aid might be bestowed The amount of Rs 150 à month requested is probably larger than is warranted at the outset, on the other hand the Rs 80 drawn by the Wesleyan School is probably the smallest allowance on which Mr. Liston would be prepared to undertake the establishment. The main question is from what source a grant could be made. On this point I believe I shall be able, with the budget entry submitted by me for the ensuing year, to shew a balance available of Rs 100 a month. But there are other applications to be considered besides the present one. I would therefore suggest for consideration whether the Rs. 80 a month transferred from the Wesleyan English Girls' School to the Orphanage for Famine Girls, is legitimately a charge that should fall on the Educational Department, and whether it could not be met from the Special Funds for Famine Relief from which grants are given to the other Missions, and also to the Wesleyan

4 mission for the buildings of this very orphan should this be done, a transfer of the grant of Rs 80 from the Wesleyan Girls' school could without difficulty, on the ground of the school being given up, be transferred at present to St Andrew's Girls' School which is designed to take its place, the question of granting a larger sum being left for consideration on the budget for the ensuring year being passed.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,
